Our rugs comes in virtually all varieties, from area rugs and wall-to-wall installations. Rugs made from natural, renewable fibers tend to be the most environmentally friendly and could include cotton, jute, organic wool, silk, Linen and bamboo.

Sustainable Rugs

Wool as a raw material has been used for hundreds of years and is sturdier than traditional nylon yarns, standing up to frequent use without crushing and matting. This completely natural and renewable product reduces static electricity, is flame resistant, and is easy to clean and maintain.

Our industry has long been committed to creating sustainable and beautiful products for people in their homes, hotels, offices and commercial spaces, and we continue to innovate to minimize the environmental impact of rug products and manufacturing.
